Some days an editor gets in such a rush he has to use up all the hot air that he has stored away for emergencies in one day's issue, then he has to give his readers a cold snicker for a day or two.

"High honors" plained for the Wright Brothers," says a headline. Suppose you would have to plan the honors rather high, or anything else, as to what matter, to reach them.

A balloon in Tennessee got loose a day or two ago, and yesterday's papers told us that it was headed for Alabama. We saw some buzzards sailing around at leisure, up high enough to be out of danger of sling shots and automobiles.

Senator Depew, in advising some college graduates the other day told them to get married, and incidentally he remarked that he had known men to pick up a liberal education by reading while waiting for their wives to get ready to go to church, or to the theatres. The senator has been married twice. He ought to know.

A Georgia paper wisely remarks: "Watch the candidates in the next campaign fall over each other trying to get on the good roads platform." Yes, it will come to that all over this land and country. There are too many people who are progressive enough to want good roads, for the country to keep the same old roads that we have been using for years with no improvement on them. We make headways along other lines, and must realize that good roads are necessary to business prosperity. The movement is not confined to any one section of the country—they are needed everywhere.

Another thing about that press association meeting. We ought to stretch some red calico across the streets, and some white, and some blue, provided it will fade, and give the city a dressed up, and that nothing else will. A delegate going to a convention of any kind, in a city the size of Dothan, without seeing a lot of streaked bunting strung up, with "Welcome" placards all over town, would feel odd, and out of keeping with traditions. One of our enterprising firms is figuring on stretching a line across the street in front of their store, and hanging some regulation bathing suits out to dry on it. This is no bad idea, for if they are hung thick and fast over this clothes line, it will give the visitors a chance to pick out one at leisure.

TRUTH WILL OUT.—
"THE ELLA."

Least there be many disappointed editors and their ladies at the Dothan meeting of the Alabama Press Association the editor of the Spring Times has been impelled to issue the following proclamation:

To Members of The Alabama Press Association and Others:
"Truth crushed to earth will rise again!"

I do not possess an "Ella," never owned one, never wore one, but once, and borrowed it then. So there!

Being thoughtful by nature and faithful by profession, I am impelled to make the foregoing confession that none of the hundred or so newspaper men and women who will be at the Dothan meeting will be disappointed and unable to enjoy the delights prepared by "Babe" Hall, "Bob" Williams and Smith Deal.

An "Ella" as defined by the corner, is affected by statesmen and occasionally by sheriffs who hope to "hood" wink the bill pushers with feigned prosperity but is really the fore-ordained mark of the preacher man.

Now if an "Ella" is a "Swallowtail," I plead guilty and Brice Kennedy, Howard Doster, Jake Pepperman and Harry Walker are participants criminals and Major screws is responsible by setting the horrible example. For this, however, Harry Martin will no doubt grant absolution.

With the hope that the bathing suit will be more popular than either "Ella" or "swallow tail" at the forthcoming meeting and asking pardon for my infirmity—ruthfulness: I am

THIS IS THE COUNTRY

While North Alabama, or the Birmingham District, is wondering where the next job will come from, and some are even figuring on where the next meal will come from, here in South Alabama we are losing no sleep. Up there in the mountains, where the people are fed only when the black smoke oozes from the smokestacks, they are seeing trouble in belated prosperity, the prosperity the Republicans promised last fall having been delayed. The people of that district have watched and waited till the grocery store has refused credit, there being no pay days. The works that have been running for twenty years are closed, pending something, the laboring men know not what. They know, though, that they have no work. They must do something, and many are leaving.

The hard times are felt only in the mining and mineral districts of Alabama. Down here where corn and cotton grow every year, good or bad, where sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, peanuts and logs, abound and feel at home, whether the mills run or not—down here we know nothing of lay-offs, deferred pay days, strikes and rumors of strikes. We know that when we are a mind to that the cotton will bring right around 10c a pound, that the corn and hard had a ready market in Dothan every day in the year, and we know, too, that we can live as happily, if not more so, than any place on earth. No one need walk the road and streets idle, looking for work in South Alabama. It wouldn't get a quarter from home before he would run right into a job waiting for him.

So Birmingham, with her thousand and smokestacks her blast furnaces, her rolling mills, her coal and coke, is not a great city at all. It is only great when everything is running on schedule, when there is a feeling that all is well. All right up and when the rest of Alabama and the whole country is teeming and clothing her people. Cut loose from the great farming belt, and as never Birmingham is a mariner on dry land, an engineer with a cold engine, an artillery with no try powder, a skilled artisan with nothing to work at, a teacher with the scholars gone home to stay, an airship with its wings cropped, an automobile without a sparking coil. She stands with hands cuffed together, to be fed by the great farming belt and is never disappointed. We of the wire grass do our part; we work when we please, and loaf at leisure, but please to work, most of us.

We feed ourselves and the rest of the world, and then see lots of fun all the while. That is, as farming people.

More than he expected, a man will say when he has been recommended to the DOTHAN STEAM LAUNDRY and has his linen returned with a color and finish on it that makes it look just like new. We never disappoint you in our work, but give you more than you expect in the artistic beauty of the laundry work done at the Dothan Steam Laundry.

MALARIA

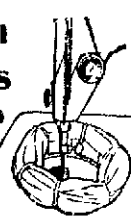

It is our desire to place before the people of this section intelligently, a view of the medicines which are used at different seasons.

MALARIA which produces fever is that which is being formed over this country now. For it, if you will keep TENNILE'S PILLS, HOLLAN'S FEVER TABLETS, HOLLAN'S EYE WATER, HOLLAN'S ANTIMALARIA TONIC, HOLLAN'S DIARRHOEA MIXTURE, you can mitigate suffering, save time and keep the body healthy.

The Judiciary Committee of the Council held a meeting this morning at eight thirty, to hear some thing further from the power plant people Messrs Kelly, Polard and Ziegler were present and the Ziegler company had Mr Farmer to present the matter for their side

The Committee, composed of H Wattard, W C Fenn and B P Fitcher went over the matter and stated about what they thought would be the proper thing for the City, whose interests they were trying to represent. The power plant representatives presented the matter as they saw it. But it all came to nothing—that is not then.

The Council has an adjourned meeting which will be held off till Monday night. At this meeting the Committee asked the representatives to have their propositions in writing, setting out the best they could do, and at the time the Council as a body, could pass upon them.

It was thought a good idea by the committee, for the propositions to be made separate for instance. Make one to furnish the city 300 horse power, for motor and lighting purposes the company not to come into competition with the city except where to horse power, or more was needed and not then, till the city had exhausted its 300 horse power. Another was, to buy the plant out right giving franchise for street car, and there was a third, but the points were drawn so fine that it was hard to tell just what was meant. It was, mainly, for the town to only buy lights for municipal purposes only, and let the company furnish consumers.

The Council realizes that whatever it does with reference to letting a power company come in town, is a matter in which it will either be praised for making a good trade, or cursed for a bad one. It doesn't know which, but is willing to act largely upon the suggestion of property owners and business men of the town. They feel that this is a crisis bearing much on the town's future, and they want to make no mistake. The power men feel that for the town to trade for a certain amount of horse power at a very low rate, and then keep the company out, except where ten or more horse power is wanted, isn't fair to them, as they have to maintain their plant to keep on hand the 300 horse power if the town needs it, and it cannot put its power on the market in competition for an over amount.

Much can be said on both sides. Nothing will be done though till the adjourned meeting Monday night.

Governor elect Joseph M Brown has selected his three secretaries and they are all newspaper men. A H Ulin who has been serving a string of papers as Atlanta correspondent will be the Governor's private secretary, B M Blackburn, an old newspaper man will be executive secretary and C C Brantley who has been editor of the Valdosta Times since Editor C R Pendleton left Valdosta to take the Macon Telegraph will be executive clerk. The appointments are all excellent ones and Governor Brown will have three most capable men in his department. If any mistake is being made on the part of Messrs Ulin and Brantley in giving up their newspaper work, in which they were both apparently doing well to accept political positions—Atlanta Herald.

Mr Brantley is known in Dothan being a brother of Mrs J L Crawford, and has visited here several times.

Rumors as to Ben Steele's wedding keep floating around through the atmosphere like smoke from a factory.

A flower garden. The last of it was that he has gone with his bride on a trip to New Orleans on the Steamer Mantol. Another rumor has it that Mrs Steele was Miss Callaway of Atlanta. The truth will be known when the mists have rolled away.

THE HOME PAPER

With all due modesty we believe the home paper is the most important institution in any town. It is the medium through which the town speaks to the outside world and is the means of communication between the people of the town and vicinity. Long ago and inspiration it was said: "No man liveth to himself" and this truth was never more apparent than it is today. No man can retire from activity and live. He must know what is going on about him and the world must know what he is doing. The use of the newspaper is the best plan by which this is carried on—Oxford (O) News.

It was a jolly crowd with plenty to eat and a fine day to have a great time. They will return on the night train.

BROAD IS THE ROAD

The tramp who goes afoot and the millionaire who rides in an automobile are equally interested in the great American problem of good roads. Macadam makes walking hard for the hobnob and when he comes to a stretch of it he generally takes to the adjoining fields. Dirt roads and touring cars are not suited to each other. The great desideratum is a dustless road soft and elastic to the foot but hard and unyielding to the heavy vehicle—in fact a sort of paradox and anomaly of a road. That is the dream and the man who makes it a reality will be one of the greatest benefactors of the world. The problem would perhaps be more easily solved, and at less expense if the country roads in the United States were not so wide. In the Middle and Western states then average width is sixty six feet two thirds of it given over to weeds which furnish a perpetual supply of seeds to the adjoining farms. A road of that width costs nearly twice as much for building and maintenance as would a highway thirty feet wide, upon which all the expense and work could be concentrated. Germany, where the travel is vastly greater than in this country, gets along nicely with highways averaging thirty feet in width.
